Spent a Good Farm Doctoring.

Mr. A. N. Noell of Ash-ville, Kan., says he spent a good farm doctoring himself for chronic diarrhoea but got no relief and was afraid that he must die. He chanced to get hold of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was permanently cured by it. For sale by F. J. Watron, druggist.

ANIMAL HEAD FORMS.

They Are Made in Great Variety and Sold in Large Numbers in This Country.

There are made for furriers and for other uses great numbers of animal head forms, these being reproductions, in a composition used for the purpose or in paper-mache, of the heads of various animals, including squirrels, foxes, wolves, bears, tigers and almost, if not, indeed, every known kind of animal, large and small, says the New York Sun.

Animal head forms are commonly made with the mouth open, showing the inside of the jaws and the tongue and the teeth. These parts, in heads of all sizes and whatever the animals may be, are finished and colored by the head-form manufacturer. The eyes are commonly put in by the furriers and others using the head forms when the forms are covered, though they are sometimes put in by the head-form manufacturer. There are made in artificial eyes reproductions from nature of the eyes of practically all known animals and birds. Such eyes are sold and used in the aggregate in enormous numbers.

The smaller animal head forms are sold by the gross, big ones, like bears and tigers, by the dozen. Taking them all together, large and small, the number of animal head forms used is very large, amounting in this country to millions annually. The smaller heads are produced at very small cost. Formerly the animal head forms used in this country were imported from Germany and England. Now they are made here, and some American head forms are exported.

WHERE ICE IS WELCOME.

Gen. Funston Longed to Cut the Ice of Success and Has at Last Found It.

In connection with the possibility of Gen. Funston having a political ambition, J. W. Gled tells a story which gives much insight into the character of the man, says the Kansas City Journal.

Gled was in New York on the day, Funston sailed away to join the insurgent forces in Cuba, and accompanied him to the steamer to say good-by. While the pair were talking at his probable future, and said:

"Willis, I have no ambition to get rich. I wouldn't get into politics for anything. I am afraid I have no settled aim or clearly seen ambition. But, nevertheless, I want to cut some ice in the world, and I intend to keep hustling until my time comes."

This yearning to cut ice has been manifest in all the movements of the restless, tireless, always moving young Kansas soldier. He has searched for his opportunity from the Arctic to the equator. Never staying anywhere long, he has dropped one thing after another in a fashion that made his friends fear he was a changeling and unstable.

But now they begin to comprehend that it was the eagerness and restlessness of a mighty ambition, and that what they deplored in him was the very characteristic that was to lead him on to glory. At last, 10,000 miles away from home, he found a chance to cut the ice of his ambition, and in cutting he cut plenty.

TRICKY PETS.

The Dossy and the Mongoose Are Fond of Playing Jokes on Their Owners.

The dossy, or "rock rabbit," is a new pet which has been brought from South Africa, and he is a very nice little fellow, but he has one little trick that nervous old ladies do not like. He waits till he finds his master or a friendly visitor asleep or reading or writing, and then he creeps as quietly as a mouse to as great a distance as he can jump, and when the busy person is not looking for anything of the kind he springs square on that person's lap or knee, or on the table beside him, flying off again, light as a bird, and is out of the room while the astonished person is having four kinds of fits.

The mongoose, a furry little animal about the size of a cat, which is used to hunt snakes, also plays a trick of this kind. It cannot jump, so it climbs up behind the busy person, never making the least bit of noise, and all at once, while the busy one is thinking perhaps of something else on the other side of the world, they feel a cold, black nose pushed up against their ear, and turn around with a shriek to see the mongoose, with its face full of mischief, running away to its box as fast as it can go.

Feminine Pioneers of Long Ago.

A copy of a curious newspaper has been found in the French national archives, says Literature. It is dated January 4, 1808, and is called l'Athenes des Dames. The articles are evidently written by women and the object of the paper seems to have been an attempt to place women on an equal footing with men. The feminine pioneers of 1808 were evidently nearly 100 years ahead of their times. La Fronde, the Parisian newspaper written, printed and published by women, is now in its third year and appears to be successful, while only one copy of l'Athenes des Dames is to be found.

People Who Say "Smart."

The French are very proud of having discovered the word "smart," which they apply in every sort of incongruous way, using it 20 times per day. The word "smart" has even crossed the Pyrenees, only altering its complexion in transit. A tourist the other day saw a gaudy parol in a shop window of the Rambla at Barcelona, and on it was a huge ticket inscribed in flaming capitals: "Smart!!!" This was a canine variation.

An Epidemic of Diarrhoea.

Mr. A. Sanders, writing from Coconut Grove, Fla., says there has been quite an epidemic of diarrhoea there. He had a severe attack and was cured by four doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says he also recommended it to others and they say it is the best medicine they ever used. For sale by F. J. Watron, druggist.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers are famous little pills for liver and bowel troubles. Never gripe. F. J. Watron.

After many intricate experiments, scientists have discovered methods for obtaining all the natural digestants. These have been combined in the proportion found in the human body and united with substances that build up the digestive organs, making a compound called Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and allows all dyspeptics to eat plenty of nourishing food while the stomach troubles are being radically cured by the medicinal agents it contains. It is pleasant to take and will give quick relief. F. J. Watron.
